International Fair

Senior Class play

"No More Homework" at Wilmington High School

The seniors of Wilmington High School's class of 1980 will present "No More Homework" on March 28 and 29 at 8 p.m. at the Barrows Auditorium at the High School.

The play takes place in a "typical" high school where an improbable situation arises. The principal is leaving for a convention, and the vice-principal and the secretary are out sick with the flu. The administrative duties are placed in the hands of the student government. Problems arise when their high school play entitled "Rusty Wings," a state basketball tournament, and other school events are all scheduled on the same day.

How the students get themselves out of a variety of predicaments is ingenious to say the least.

The cast will include such Wilmington High senior students as Brenda Carta as Miss Dill, the secretary; Susan Zuccaro as Miss Goodin, a math teacher; Nancy Stone as Mrs. Clendenning, a science teacher; Judy Blum as Miss Ogilvie, an English teacher; Mike Copp as Mr. Harper, a middle-aged history teacher; Dave Ballou as Mr. Guthrie, the basketball coach; Susan Rydberg as Pamela, a conscientious student; Joe Murphy as the ambitious principal; John Scozzaro as Ronald, the basketball star; Mike Spence, Pamela's boyfriend; Judy Morris as Midge, a humorous student; Ed Barlow as Faversham, a sleepy student; Elizabeth Trickett as Tallulah, the drama expert; Dan Burbine as "Tick Tok" the janitor; Diane Doyle as Mrs. Ratchet, the cleaning lady; Anita Lescage as Shalimar, a troublemaker; Kevin Cairas as Mr. Ames, the president of the school board; and Scott Richards as himself in a unique cameo performance.

Tickets may be purchased for $1.25 before showtime by contacting Mrs.

Irene Brennan or Frank Kelley at Wilmington High School at 658-4463 or they may be purchased for $1.50 at the door on the nights of the show.

Two injured

Two Billerica people were injured on Saturday when their car and a truck collided head on on Shawshen Avenue. David Young, 21, and his passenger, Janet Lamantea were both taken to Choate Memorial Hospital with multiple injuries. The driver of the truck, Richard Arpin of Lowell was not injured. The accident happened about 11:30 a.m. near Grace Drive.

More tests for Chestnut Street well

The trichloroethylene (TCE) which caused the shutting down of the Chestnut Street well, last July 1, seems to have been strictly local. However, the board of water and sewer commissioners does not as yet have definite proof.

TCE is a colorless liquid which smells like carbona. Heavier than water, it will evaporate quickly, if exposed to the air. It will remain however, in the ground, if allowed to be there, for many years. TCE is reported to be carcinogenic (cancer causing) and the Chestnut Street well was shut down on orders of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) last summer when tests proved that TCE was in the water being pumped by that well.

Another set of readings are to be made in the test wells which have been drilled in the area. Those wells monitor the water approaching the Chestnut Street well from all directions. Weston & Sampson Engineers, Inc. of Boston was the firm which was hired to do the testing.

Chairman George Allan at first believed the TCE was coming from Burlington, being carried by a brook which runs through a shopping center in that town. Dry cleaning fluid, dumped in that brook from one of the two dry cleaning centers in that town, Allan believed, could possibly get to the Chestnut Street well.

Paul Duggan, Superintendent of the Water & Sewer Department now leans toward the thoughts that the TCE source was either some illegal dumping by a person who had been using cleaning fluid to clean an automotive or other engine, or possibly from a paint cleaner which was dumped on the site many years ago, when the water pumping station was constructed.

The new tests are expected to begin in a short period of time.

Shannon meeting Friday evening

Fifth District Congressman James M. Shannon will hold an open forum town meeting in Wilmington on Friday evening, March 21, beginning at 6:30. The meeting will be held in the conference room of the Wilmington Memorial Library.

Congressman Shannon has recently completed his first year in Congress. During the past year Shannon has held at least one of these open forums in every city and town in the Fifth Congressional District.

"Because of these town meetings, I have been able to keep in touch with the people I represent. I have been able to return to Washington each weekend with first hand knowledge of the concerns of my constituents," Shannon said.

Congressman Shannon, the youngest member of the 96th Congress, is also serving on one of the most prestigious Committees in Washington; the Ways and Means Committee. Shannon is the youngest member of that Committee since 1804.

Through previous open-forum meetings, Congressman Shannon has become aware of the role that these meetings can play in addressing the frustration that some constituents feel in their various dealings with governmental agencies. "Several members of my Congressional staff will be available to assist individuals experiencing difficulties in their interactions with the federal government," Shannon said.

The format of these meetings is informal; after the Congressman makes a few opening remarks, citizens raise questions in areas of their concern. Subject matter has included: energy alternatives, the windfall profits tax on oil company excess profits, import quotas, social security benefits, employment, and housing.

I urge Wilmington residents to attend, as this meeting can serve as an opportunity for communication and service to those persons unable to avail themselves of the District Offices in Lowell or Lawrence or the Mobile Office.

Vandals hit Aleppo Temple

Vandals Saturday night broke several windows and caused other damage at Aleppo Temple on Fordham Road.

A spokesman for Aleppo Temple said that all the ground floor windows were broken, including 13 plate glass windows. The lights on two tractor-trailers were also smashed.

Wilmington police rounded up several juveniles during the course of the night. No action was taken against any of them, and they were turned over to their parents. Police are continuing to investigate.

Aleppo Temple is the auditorium and meeting hall of the Shriners. A charitable organization, the Shriners present such events as an annual circus, with the proceeds used to support the Shrine hospitals. The Shriners' Burns Institute is a world leader in the care of burns on children. Treatment is performed at no cost to the patient's family. It is entirely paid for by the Shriners.

The Shriners spokesman called the vandalism a very sad situation. They would rather put their money to work caring for burn victims, instead of paying to fix broken windows.

Standpipe leak

Wilmington's Kelley Hill standpipe has been leaking for about a month. A small leak, about 85 feet up on the 125 foot tower, has been spraying water. On cold days, ice would form on nearby trees and on the side of the tower and the ground below. At one point, there was three feet of ice on the ground. The broken limbs are visible results of the ice, which has since melted. Water Supt. Paul Duggan said that a welder was scheduled to repair the leak on Wednesday.

Seven seek selectmens' seats

A total of seven candidates filed nomination papers for the Wilmington Board of Selectmen. Two seats on that board are up for election on April 19.

The filing deadline passed on March 14. No more nomination papers may be filed. Any candidate not wishing to run has until March 24 to withdraw.

Of the two men presently holding the seats, one is seeking re-election. Selectman A. John Imbimbo was among the seven who filed papers. Selectman James Banda last month announced that he would not seek re-election. Others filing for selectman are: Carl A. Backman, Daniel H. Ballou, Jr., Colin Banfield, Richard Gifford, Anne D. Linehan, and Gerald O'Reilly.

Four candidates have filed for two school committee seats, including incumbents John Brooks and Lester White, the present chairman. Others who filed for school committee were Elmer Parker and Arthur Ryder.

Two men are seeking election to a three year unexpired term on the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority. Bernard J. LaVita and Daniel Stewart both seek to fill the seat left vacant by the resignation of Harold Allen.

Unopposed in their bids for re-election are Moderator John Callan, Housing Authority member Kevin McMillan and Lawrence Flaherty, a member of the Shawshen Regional Technical Vocational High School Committee.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON

The Board of Selectmen hereby give notice that there will be a Special Town Meeting held on April 26, 1980 at 1:30 p.m. in conjunction with the adjourned Annual Town Meeting to be held at the High School Gymnasium, Church Street, in said Town of Wilmington.

Community Service workshops at Middlesex Community College

Can a person explore opportunities within a particular career field without committing time to the wrong job or taking the wrong courses at school?

Barbara Sherman, director of Community Services at Middlesex Community College said, "Yes, certainly," and mentioned several upcoming Community Service workshops which focus on specific fields.

The workshops, all scheduled for Saturday, March 29, at the MCC North Campus, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., are entitled, "Opportunities in Interior Design," "Careers in Advertising and Public Relations," and "Alternatives to the 9 to 5 job."

"Opportunities in Interior Design," provides information on how to get started, types of educational and training programs available, and the qualifications required for this creative field.

"Careers in Advertising and Public Relations," surveys the entire field - the rewards, the frustrations, work climate, salaries, and job opportunities and gives a realistic appraisal for evaluating chances for getting into and moving up in the field.

Participants in the "Alternative to the 9 to 5 Job" workshop will hear presentations of eight individual cases of people who found interesting and satisfying part-time work in a wide variety of fields. This program is designed primarily for those who want to work, but also require flexible schedules to accommodate other pursuits - children, household and other interests.

Two other upcoming Community Service courses in the area of leisure living are Wine Tasting Workshop, and The ABC's of Antiques.

The Wine Tasting Workshop, offered on six Wednesday evenings, beginning March 26 will introduce students to the major varieties of grape wine and their sources and will include tasting and serving techniques. Classes meet at the MCC North Campus.

Beginning collectors will value the basic knowledge of antiques gained through the course entitled The ABC's of Antiques. It meets for four Thursday evenings beginning March 27, at Minuteman School in Lexington. Discussions will cover several periods of furniture as well as folk art, porcelain and glassware.

For more information or to register for any of these courses call Barbara Sherman, at 275-8910, ext. 291, or write Community Services Division, MCC, Box T, Spring Road, Bedford, Ma. 01730.

Ask the nutritionist at Health Center

Questions regarding nutrition, special diets and health will be answered by a group of nutrition experts at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington throughout March, designated National Nutrition Month. One of the nutritionists will be available each afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00 at the information table in the Center's main lobby.

The information table is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The nutritionists are Elvira Q. Johnson, RD, MS, a North Reading resident, who is the Nutrition Service Coordinator at the Regional Health Center; Cynthia T. Bayerl, RD, MS, a nutrition specialist at Children's Hospital Medical Center, residing in Wilmington; and Cambridge resident Peggy Ann Wright, B.S., a graduate student in nutrition at the Tufts New England Medical Center.

Ms. Johnson hopes that Nutrition Month will help people become more aware of how they can obtain reliable information on nutrition.

Natural History camping programs

The camping staff of the Massachusetts Audubon Society will host two slide show presentations to better acquaint the public with the natural history camping programs of the Wildwood Nature Center. The programs will be held at Drumlin Farm Nature Center in Lincoln on March 26 and at Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary, Topsfield on March 27. Both programs begin at 7:30 p.m.

The staff of Audubon and Wildwood will be on hand to answer questions about the unique programs available

"In Massachusetts anyone from the grocery store clerk to the physicians can legally call himself a nutritionist, even if he or she has received no professional training in nutrition," she says. "Yet qualified professional nutritionists do exist. A reliable nutritionist should have a degree in the area of food and nutritional science from a reputable educational institution. This person must be able to critically evaluate scientific information and translate information into practical everyday advice as objectively as possible," asserts Johnson.

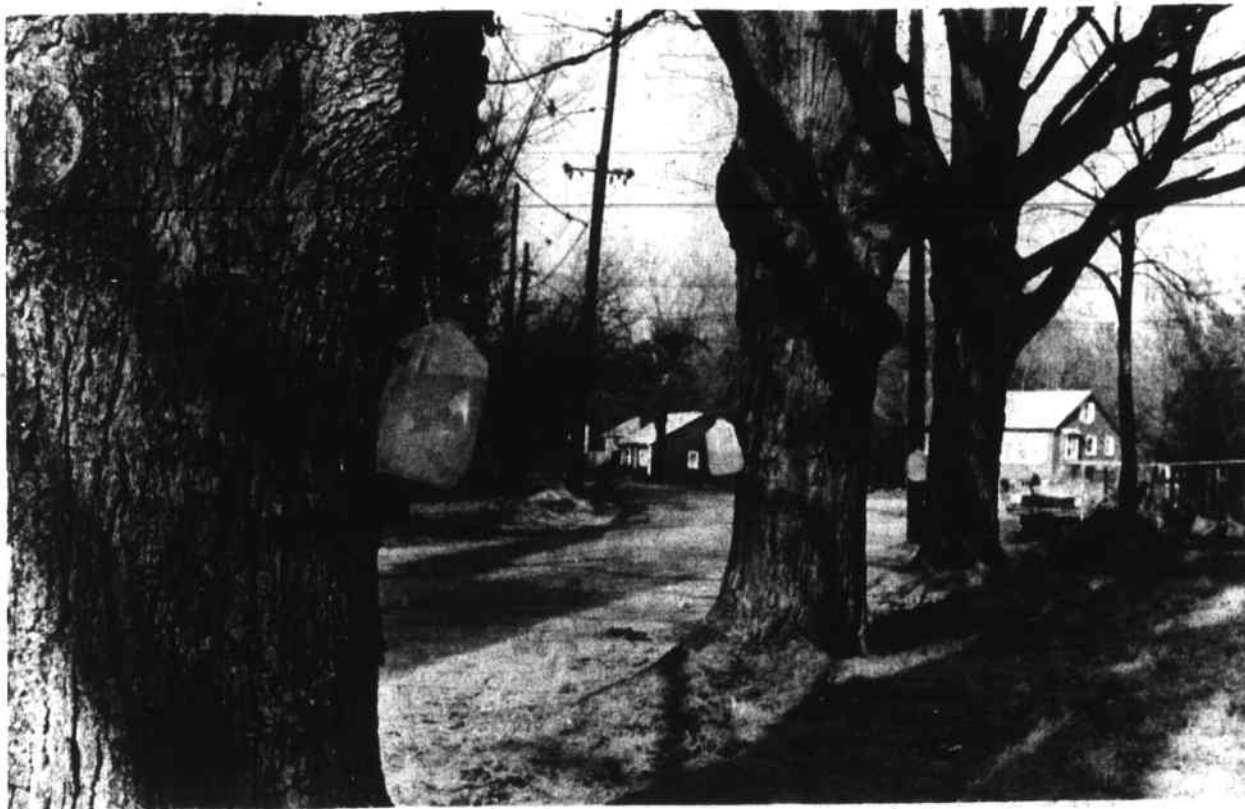

She cautions, however, that "nutrition is a relatively new field and we don't have all the answers. A person who claims to know all the answers or promises to cure all medical problems through nutrition alone cannot be considered reliable."

Further information can be obtained by calling the Community Health Education Office at 657-3910, ext. 567.

for children, teens and adults.

Wildwood, located in Barre, Massachusetts, offers a variety of outdoor experiences including a two week resident camp for children, an expedition experience for teenagers and adults and family camping as well as Natural History Weekends and Leadership Training.

For additional information about the slide shows or camping with Audubon, call 1-355-4064 or you can write: Wildwood Nature Center, Box 638, Barre, Ma. 01005.

Sap season

Milk jugs are to be seen on several maple trees in Wilmington this spring, hung there by a North Wilmington man. David O'Rourke has made about a gallon of maple syrup so far, boiling the sap on a back yard barbecue. These trees are on Woburn Street, Wilmington.

Letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

Having a more than casual interest and knowledge about the town's water supply, I attended the program sponsored by the League of Women Voters on "Water Quality" on Wednesday evening, March 12, at the Wilmington Public Library. The two speakers were Gerald McCall, Northeast Regional Director of the DEQE (Department of Environmental Quality Engineering) and Ms. Dana Duxbury of Andover, committee chairman on Hazardous Wastes.

The program was well attended by concerned townspeople. The League of Women Voters is to be commended for bringing the important subject of water quality to the attention of the public. However, I took exception to a comment made by Ms. Duxbury.

Specifically before speaking, she made reference to the fact that if she became hoarse from speaking, she requested that she not be given a drink of water. If this was a facetious comment, it was not so recognized by those in attendance. If it was not intended to be facetious, it was irresponsible.

Comments such as this by people who profess to be knowledgeable about water quality instill undue fears in the minds of out townspeople that the water is unsafe to drink. Mr. McCall of the DEQE had to assure the audience that our water is quite safe to drink. It meets all the requirements of the "Safe Drinking Water Act" as determined by frequent analysis by the DEQE.

Some of our townspeople have resorted to buying bottled water. Have they ever seen a water quality analysis of this water? There is no information on the labels of these bottles as to what is in the water. The water quality data on our wells is public information and can be obtained on request.

Our tap water is tested by state analysis much more extensively for organic and inorganic contaminants. In addition, our townspeople are much better off drinking tap water than drinking artificially sweetened or high sodium filled beverages.

Many towns are experiencing water quality problems across the state and nation. Wilmington is one of the few towns in this area that has committed a large sum of money to construct a water treatment plant to insure that the town continues to provide good quality water.

I hope the interest that this League of Women Voters' program generated will be a positive approach to our most vital resource.....water!!!

Editor's note: Mrs. Allan is the wife of George Allan, chairman of the Wilmington Water and Sewer Commissioners.

Dear Larz,

In the March 6 edition of your paper, I read an article about re-evaluation of property to cost $125,000. A friend at work relayed to me that in his town 100 percent evaluation was arrived at by doubling all property evaluations when the earlier 100 percent assessment had deteriorated to 50 percent assessment (or true market value).

If such a plan is legal in other towns which had previously been 100 percent assessed, why can't it be done here? The savings alone in complaints, as well as money, will be worth the effort if the procedure is legal. In this period of increased costs due to inflation, any dollar saved would be an asset to the community.

Yours truly,
Joseph G. Zukas

Dear Larz:

John Brown Jr.'s letter to the Crier, last week, was a testimonial, not only to the fire fighters of this town, but also to John.

Back in John's high school days during Student Government Week, John was elected fire chief, and I was present at a dinner honoring the winning students. I heard John give a speech on firefighting. Everyone who heard that speech knew that Brown was a born firefighter!

The years that have passed since then have proven that John is everything a dedicated public servant should be, and his letter enlightened me to the really unpleasant tasks that a firefighter (who is also a C.P.R.) encounters. It needs to be told.

Many times an emergency occurs, and a doctor is not available and there is not enough time to get to a hospital. A call to the fire station will bring qualified assistance in a matter of minutes and many, many times, they have responded. Thank God they were there when my husband needed them.

John Brown, Jr. is an example of the best, and I thank John and all the others for being what they are - great!!

Margaret Imbimbo

Dear Larz:

In regard to Mrs. L's letter to the Town Crier a few weeks ago about the L Vegas nights and trying to stop them. I think the people of this town should be allowed to spend their hard-earned money any way they please. Just because Mrs. L is not interested in these nights out, why should she try to spoil something a lot of people enjoy?

My husband and I enjoy these games as I'm sure a lot of people in this town do. Does this woman want to stop everything in this town so the grown-ups as well as the kids have to go out of town to enjoy themselves?

Mrs. L. seems to take a lot upon herself. Why doesn't she leave well enough alone and let everyone decide for themselves?!!

Mrs. Halligan

Dear Larz:

Saturday night hundreds of young people in the town of Wilmington were roaming the streets of Wilmington all night long and the vandalism they inflicted on themselves and buildings in this town is disgraceful. The damage to buildings will run into hundreds of dollars - the damage to these young people - well God only knows!

At the Aleppo Temple alone, as most people in this area know by now, 45 windows were broken and various other acts of vandalism occurred.

Parents can make a difference if they choose to - people today seem to focus on themselves and "their rights." All I have heard this week is they (the kids) have a right to be out. There is nothing for them to do in this town. They have a right to have a party!! Yes, they have rights, but in claiming their rights do they have to invade upon the rights of others?

These young people are becoming obsessed with what they think is due them rather than with what they can give to this community. They are not even honoring one another much less their parents.

Parents must show more concern and accept their responsibilities in these acts that occurred over the weekend.

Do you know where your teenager was Saturday night? Do you know where your children are on any given night???

Anne D. Linehan

Dear Friend of Youth:

Strange as it might seem to you, most of us are also in favor of youth, because they are the future.

You sound more mixed up than they in trying to defend their lack of character in blaming everything on someone else, but instead of debating those points I just wanted to right a wrong impression when you state that as if it were fact that "in our schools everything is geared to the training of the brilliant child." This is not so.

As a student, as a mother, as a teacher, and through PTA, I can tell you from the inside that the average student is the one everything is geared to. Much more money has been channeled into helping the slow learner because there are so many more of them than there are more parents to pressure for privileges for them, be the mentally retarded, handicapped, minority-disadvantaged, or whatever. The teachers in at least one large school system are firmly instructed to give mostly B, only five percent A, only five percent D with C as a warning. This is of course a ridiculous situation having no basis in reality.

So too is the Pressure-Teacher for A activities on the theory that an all-A report card will get them into college regardless of whether they learn anything or not; that generation of parent is now rebelling and demanding a return to "basics."

The truth is that only in the last couple of years has a national program emerged to enrich the lives and offer wider opportunities to the Talented and Gifted Child, something long overdue. Everyone assumes they will get along without help, but they are children too and need direction and inspiration and challenge for their abilities.

I hope you read on the same page with your letter the editorial on the Tewksbury High School raffles, because you see youth in general wanting everything easy instead of wanting to work.

Also for Youth

Dear Larz:

The fire department will get emergency funding, alas, we can relax, the problems extolled last week were merely the views of an outspoken alarmist. Right? Wrong!

The emergency transfer of $2,000 did not remedy the situation. That money was to fund call back of off-duty fire fighters, and was not for maintaining seven-man shifts. The transfer was made on the sixth of March. The fire department did not meet with the fire chief on March 5, because they had a full agenda. Doesn't the safety of our townspeople rank first priority in budgetary matters of Wilmington?

Monday evening, March 10, the selectmen voted to petition the Department of Corporations & Taxation for $10,000 to fund the fire department until April 26, when a special town meeting can be held to appropriate monies for the remainder of the fiscal year. The $10,000 arrived on March 12; shift strength at the firehouse can be maintained at seven men for a while (still one man short of the eight men voted by the 1977 town meeting).

On or about February 22, the town hall was aware of the impending fiscal crisis facing the fire department. The acting chief presented his case and explained the problems inherent to manpower cutbacks, but all fell on deaf ears. The response may be interpreted thus: Make do with what you have - or your load will be lightened for you by laying off fire fighters. Is this the attitude of a man concerned with the welfare of the townspeople and those protecting them, or is dictatorship what is purveyed here?

The board of selectmen was apparently unaware of the problems until March 5. What was the 13 day delay caused by?

As a layman's analogy, let's use the following situation:

If the town manager knows on February 22 that the town hall will run out of heating oil some time in early March, will he:

A. Immediately call for a delivery, or

B. Wait until the oil is gone, after two days with no heat get five gallons of oil, then wait four more days before calling for a delivery, which may or may not come sometime in the immediate future.

Of course, most people choose "A," but I would have to say our town manager would choose "B" after his most recent performance.

Our finance committee, now the holder of our purse strings, is not all bad, but it, too, has a problem with peripheral vision. It strives to save money and cut taxes, but fails to fully comprehend the impact of its proposals. The 1977 town meeting clearly stated its desire to have eight man shifts on duty in the fire department.

The fincom uses this expenditure as a chance to save money - we will schedule eight men, but when someone is out, we will work with seven men - a great way to save money, but kicks the hell out of improving fire protection. Last year a job was eliminated through attrition. We were undermanned to begin with - save money, not lives! When a piece of equipment is requested, it is because it is needed, not because we want to add to or update our collection.

Funds for a brush fire truck were requested several years ago and denied as not essential. We saved money, but read on and find the results of this saving.

The brush truck that this new one was to replace was permanently taken out of service because of mechanical failure, thus, we are left with an 18-year-old truck to combat brush fires. This lone brush truck, if it starts, is so slow that it is passed by cars when responding to a fire. If the pump on it works, you hope it will remain engaged long enough to knock down the fire, but it has a very bad habit of jumping out of gear, thus causing the pump to stop. You also must remember to put a block under the wheel because the emergency break doesn't work. When we have no brush truck available, we must use a conventional pumper - these pumps were not designed for off-road use and often times sustain damage as a result.

Finally, in 1978, our 24-year-old brush truck was recognized as undependable and $35,000 was voted to purchase a new one. Our original request six years prior, $15,000, now takes an increase in price of 139 percent, the cost of repairs over the years, and tell me what was the wisdom of waiting.

I do not claim to have all the answers, but am merely attempting to bring to light the problems facing our fire department. I, too, am a taxpayer and appreciate the problems of spiraling costs. However, I do feel that incorporated into any tax structure should be the finest protection of lives and property available, and not a mere representation thereof.

I ask the support of the people of Wilmington in building our fire protection to a safe and desired level. I do not expect this to be done at once, but through careful planning and expert guidance we can accomplish this goal in the near future. Let's not put everything off until a tragedy forces us to realize a need.

Sincerely,
John Brown, Jr.
Fire fighter

Xenon plays waiting game

The Xenon Corporation of 66 Industrial Way, Wilmington could save the country a lot of money, now being spent on energy. So says Richard Panico, one of six brothers who own the firm.

Nine years ago Richard, who is a Northeastern University graduate, invented a "high intensity pulsed light cure." He patented the process, which can instantly tune a pulsating, high-intensity light to the "flash polymerization" desired as needed, for the curing of industrial materials.

By means of the invention firms can quickly preserve or cure industrial materials that now require fuel-fired, high heat ovens. Among the materials involved are rubber, plastics and resins.

A production unit, of about 10 feet by 10 feet, could be used to cure such things as missile casings, auto fenders, pipes, weapons, book covers, desks, cars and tool booths. The list is lengthy. Only a few items have been named.

The industrial ovens presently in use must be kept up to high heat levels all day long. Some of them are 400 feet long. The amount of fuel consumed under these circumstances is obvious.

Panico's process, as demonstrated, reduced the cure time from 72 hours (three days) to three minutes. Similar reductions of time, from hours to minutes, have been demonstrated on other materials. The savings in fuel consumption is obvious.

Six years ago Richard Panico applied to the US Government for a Federal Development grant. He demonstrated his process, at Xenon to officials of the Department of Energy, and officials of the National Bureau of Standards.

Panico received a $100,000 grant, to build a stepped-up prototype production model, of the laboratory process.

The government told Richard that it would take six months, to complete the original grant. It took, instead, three years.

Richard Panico has reason to worry about further federal delays. It is now six years since he demonstrated his process. At stake now is a $4,000,000 grant, to construct a full scale production unit.

One government official has said that even though the process was proven, in a small scale demonstration, it has as yet to meet the test of time.

"It is a very valuable idea" says David Mellow, of the Department of Energy's inventions support division, "if it works."

"But there are some unknown quantities, involving physics, that we don't know about. Xenon has perhaps invented a process that is very valuable to them and to the country. We are excited about it. It has a great national significance."

"There is still a test of time" he said, "despite the facts that are there."

To find a first good customer, to work with Xenon in a cost-sharing venture which will establish the time-experience factor is a part of the function of his office, Mellow said.

"We will try to show certain large companies that it is in their interest to enter into such a relationship."

"Even then, it is not a guarantee." There are other factors which may explain why some industries are reluctant to convert, despite the obvious saving of energy. They may have, for instance, large capital investments in new equipment, such as curing ovens. They may want to run out the usual life of such an investment.

"It is difficult to cast out a proven method" said Mellow "even in the face of a scientific uncertainty."

The Panico brothers are, of course, anxious to get things going. They are afraid that the delay in the granting of federal money may force them to seek private funding.

The problem is, in one respect, that large firms who might want to buy the process might also want to have the controlling interest. The brothers are aware of the fact that in the past there have been times when a good idea disappeared, into the maws of an industrial giant, and was heard of no more.

The firm was started, in a Quincy cellar, by brothers Richard and Lou Panico, and shortly afterward moved into an old building in Watertown, in 1964. Then the brothers moved into a 6,000 square foot building in Medford, and five years ago, in 1975, moved into a 30,000 square foot building at 66 Industrial Way, Wilmington.

Panico brothers Lou Panico standing, is president of Xenon. Robert Panico is the brother who invented the rapid heating process.

Coffee-open house at Middlesex Community College

Can a mature college graduate, an ex-teacher or a woman who has never worked find a program that will help her to focus on her future?

Eighty women who have attended the Live program at Middlesex Community College's Division of Community Services have responded with a resounding "Yes!!"

On Wednesday, April 9, a coffee-open house will be held at 10 a.m. for women who are interested in hearing about Live - a day-time career planning program that provides an opportunity to learn on-the-job.

By means of seminars and discussions, participants prepare for new careers on either a part-time or full-time basis. There are no entrance exams and no tests. Special attention is given to interviewing and resume preparation, the two areas that concern women who have not had recent job experience.

The unique feature of Live is the on-the-job training, especially arranged for each person. Placements are made in business, industry, social service agencies or wherever interest is displayed. Most of the women are hired by these companies to work in personnel, advertising, counseling, public relations and elsewhere.

As instructor Sandy Pollack says, "Live helps women to focus on the one career for which they seem best suited. We then develop an on-the-job training program in that field. Employers look forward to working with our mature Live participants."

For reservations call Sandy Pollack at 275-8910, ext. 292.

It shall be provided that common charges are to be allocated among the dwelling owners in proportion to their ownership or beneficial interests in the corporation, non-profit organization or trust, and that each dwelling owner's share of the common charge shall be a lien against his real estate in the PRD, which shall have priority over all other liens with the exception of municipal liens and first mortgages of record, and Roll 'em!

Pinewood Derby winners know that how you put your car on the track can be very important, so David Feyler took special care as he set his wheels in the gate at Pack 136's Pinewood Derby last Monday night.

Pinewood Derby for Cub Scout Pack 136

On Monday evening, there was a night of excitement for the boys of Cub Scout Pack 136. This was the night of their Pinewood Derby. The evening was called to order by Philip Fenton, who repeated the rules of the game for the Cub Scouts and Webelos.

The racing specifications are that the overall width of the car shall not exceed two and a quarter inches. The overall length shall not be more than seven inches and the weight shall not be over five ounces. No loose materials of any kind are permitted in the car and it may be hollowed out and built up to the maximum weight by the addition of wood or metal only, provided it is securely attached to the body.

Judges for the most original car were Mary Jones, Louise Fillio, and Hyman Jacobs, of the American Legion. The winner for this phase of the contest was John Carter of Den Two. His car was number 43 and it was an unusual shape and painted a dark blue.

A raffle was held and the winner of this was Louise Fillio. She won a painting done by Rita Strow, Den mother of Den Two.

The races were started with Jonathon Masse and Daniel Sovie, of Den Three. The procedure is that two boys race three times each; two wins out of three is the winner; then there is a process of elimination.

There were some photo finishes, one between Sean Bracy, with car 57 and Richard DiPerri with car two. Steven Mann and Eric Pentinnin had a head to head finish with judges Hyman Jacobs and Mr. Knowlton having a difficult decision to make.

Winners: Steven Mann of Den One, John Carter of Den Two, Sean Brady of Den Three and David Feyler of the Webelos Den.

The final contenders were David Feyler and Steven Mann.

Individual den winners were: Den One: Steven Mann, Eric Pentinnin, Phillip Fenton.

Den three: John Carter, Scott Costa, Steven Yurek.

Den Three: Sean Bracy, Richard DiPerri, Danny Savoie.

Webelos: David Feyler, David Schmidt, Ed Cuoco.

Redmond, Marshall head Family Counseling

At the annual meeting of the Wilmington Family Counseling Service, Inc. the following officers were elected: William Redmond, president; John Marshall, M.D., vice president; Anna Low, treasurer; Barbara Welton, secretary.

In the annual report, Carol Golub, Ph.D., psychologist-director, explained that the Wilmington Family Counseling Service's $17000 contract with the town to provide mental health services has not increased since 1976. However, the average number of counseling and therapy sessions provided in a month has increased by 66 percent from 92 in 1976 to 153 in 1979. The average number of families provided service in a month has increased by 57 percent during the same time period from 35 per month in 1976 to 55 per month in 1979.

According to Dr. Golub, the results of the 1979 client evaluation questionnaire indicated that 92 percent of the clients returning the questionnaire felt their lives had improved since the time when the first sought help from the agency. Eighty-nine percent thought the agency had been helpful and 95 percent indicated they would refer their friends and family to the agency.

Residents of the town of Wilmington seeking help for personal-emotional, family or marital problems should call 658-9889.

"He always voted for the Town"

Carl Backman retired as a Selectman of Wilmington Monday night. It was his last meeting, the end of a three year term. The Wilmington Board of Selectmen, with perhaps an eye to the future, and most certainly one on the past, acclaimed Mr. Backman as a man who had never voted for himself, and always voted for the town - never voted for himself, and the past year of meetings, on the part of the Wilmington Selectmen, have been notable for the lack of wrangling and personal political action.

Rotary marks 75 years of service

The Rotary Club of Wilmington, along with nearly 900,000 other Rotarians throughout the world, is celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of their international organization in Chicago in 1905.

The observance of the Diamond Jubilee of Rotary International coincides with the 35th anniversary of the local club, which can look back, with satisfaction, on more than three decades of fellowship and productive service to its community.

Like Rotarians everywhere, the local business and professional men have adopted the universal slogan: "He profits most who serves the best." But history has demonstrated that the emphasis has deliberately been placed not on "personal profit" but on "public service," not only to their own organization, locally and internationally, but to the community in which they live and conduct their business or profession.

So, Rotarians have in recent years come to be identified more closely by the motto, "Service Above Self."

Both emphasize the "service" every member is mandated to give, according to his individual talents and resources. As a result, Wilmington, as a community, has been enriched and is being enriched, over and again - by the contributions Rotary has made to its life.

Wilmington is one of the smaller Rotary clubs in the area - but one of the most active. As a result, its community service has taken notable forms, enhancing the spiritual, physical and social welfare of the people of the town. The calendar of contributions traces back to the early days of the club's existence.

Early in 1948, just three years after it received its charter, the Rotary Club of Wilmington set out to establish a Dental Clinic for the benefit of the school children. To raise the necessary funds a Labor Day weekend carnival was staged at Silver Lake Park. It was an ambitious undertaking, but it succeeded, raising $4700 to finance the founding of the Dental Clinic, which is still operating today, promoting dental hygiene for the town's thousands of children.

More recently, the Rotarians threw their personnel and funds behind the citizens' need for a medical facility in the community. They provided not only the talent, planning and business acumen but an initial donation of $10,000 from their charitable funds to support the construction of the Regional Health Center in Wilmington. The new medical facility, which had been the dream of Rotarian Mel Woodside and his wife, Lil, now provides first line protection for the community against disease, accident and other health emergencies 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Rotary's second major community project followed closely on the Dental Clinic. In December, 1950, began the program to "foster, encourage and promote young people's activities and programs, educational, athletic, social and patriotic activities among boys and girls and the young people of the town, and to acquire, purchase, erect, lease, mortgage, maintain, sell and exchange such real and personal property as may be necessary."

Eighteen months later, Rotary Park was incorporated and was an on-going project, with $10,000 expended for the purchase of the cranberry bog between Middlesex Avenue and Church Street. Today it is one of Wilmington's beauty spots, a place of recreation and quiet relaxation, for young and old alike, at all seasons of the year. It provides for baseball in the summer and skating in the winter on the surface of its scenic pool; and proposals have been advanced to expand its facilities.

It took money and hard work - years of draining and filling and landscaping, but today Rotary Park is a reality - one of the natural assets which make Wilmington a community. It came from a $40,000 gift to the town from its business and professional men gathered together under the Rotary banner of "service."

In the past year, made cognizant of the economic squeeze of inflationary and budgetary pressures, the Rotary Club contributed $5000 to purchase a Universal gym machine which has been installed in the High School. The new equipment not only created an entirely new dimension in the state-required physical education program in the secondary schools, it also made possible an unprecedented program of classes for adults, both men and women during the early, pre-school hours and in the evening under the collaboration of the School Physical Education Department and the town's Recreation Department.

Rotary this past month sponsored a Basketball Shootout for the boys and girls of the town. It is intended to make it an annual event to provide fun and satisfaction for the young participants and develop a spirit of fellowship and community among their families. Similarly in the past it spent several thousands of dollars on recreation programs for handicapped children at the Berry Rehabilitation Center.

Year after year, Rotary has performed an invaluable service by contributing thousands of dollars for the sponsorship of scholarships to enable bright young Wilmington boy and girl students to continue their education at the nation's top colleges and universities, thus encouraging the development of new generations of leaders vital to the political and economic survival of the community, state and nation in the future.

At the same time, the Wilmington club has contributed generously to the support of Rotary International's program of Fellowships for Advanced Study, which makes it possible for students around the world to pursue higher education in foreign countries, including attending universities in the United States, creating thousands of goodwill ambassadors, who come to understand the democratic way of life and to promote friendship for the United States in their homelands. Wilmington students have been beneficiaries of this program returning home with a new appreciation of the world and our role in it.

The roster of Wilmington Rotary has always included the names of Wilmington's business and professional leaders. The founding president was the late State Representative Fred Cain, whose memorial plaque, a gift of the club, adorns the southeast corner of the park which now bears his name - Fred Cain Rotary Park a lasting monument to an organization motivated by civic pride and a sincere, unselfish desire to serve the community from which it draws its life, its members.

Of the eight pioneers, who first assembled in his garage with Fred Cain on November 2, 1944 - Henry Porter, Vinal Conway, Joseph McMahon, Stephen Bean, Algot Osterman, Millard Pipes and William Babine - one other charter member, Earle Hamilton - only Porter and Hamilton remain.

Presiding over Wilmington Rotary during this Diamond Jubilee year of Rotary International is David Milot, of Brewsters building supply company. Other officers are Robert L. Doucette, gasoline dealer, vice president; Richard C. Forrest, banker, president-elect; Stanley Webber, retired Town Assessor, secretary; Fred Lospennato, banker, treasurer; Robert Verdonck, banker, sergeant at arms; and Carl E. Melander, metals fabricator, immediate past president.

They represent a broad cross-section of the business and industry in the community - as does the membership, in general. They follow the same avenues of service on which their predecessors set their feet decades ago and are aggressive in seeking new channels of service to the community.

Rotarians, as Irish wit George Bernard Shaw once quipped, may be going to lunch (if it's Wednesday noon in Wilmington) but they have more on their minds than the menu.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON

PLANNING BOARD PUBLIC HEARING

The Planning Board of the Town of Wilmington will hold a public hearing in the Wilmington Memorial Library Conference Room, at 8:00 PM, Tuesday, April 8, 1980, on certain articles to appear in the Warrant for the 1980 Annual Town Meeting.

Article 22: To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning By-Law of the Town of Wilmington by adding a new section to the Wilmington Zoning By-Law as follows:

III-7 USES IN PLANNED RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT - PRD DISTRICTS

A. General Objectives - The PRD district is intended to allow greater flexibility in land use planning for the development of tracts of land in terms of preservation of open spaces, utilization of natural features and provision of a variety of housing types and styles; to ensure that overall development plans will be presented to the Town Meeting in connection with any proposal to rezone a tract of land to PRD District; and to enable the Planning Board to require adherence to such overall development plans in the granting of a special permit which shall control all aspects of the proposed PRD as hereinafter described.

B. Town Meeting Presentation - Every proposal presented to Town Meeting for rezoning land to a PRD District shall include an overall development plan which shall show in a general manner, drawn to scale, existing natural features including the limits of the Flood Plain District and Wetlands in Planning District and Wetlands as determined and regulated in accordance with G.L.c. 131 Sec. 40, "The Wetlands Protection Act," the proposed locations, types and floor plans for proposed buildings and other structures, proposed location of streets, drives, parking areas and other paved areas, the proposed grading of the site and the proposed open space. A copy of the overall development plan, which shall be deemed to include any literature and comments, authorized by the developer which will be or has been presented to Town Meeting shall be filed with the Town Clerk together with the Article to rezone the subject site to PRD District.

C. PRD Standards

1. Minimum Tract Size - a PRD shall be permitted upon a single tract, in one ownership with definitive boundaries ascertainable from a record deed and recorded plan, or new outline survey plan if required by the Planning Board, with an area of not less than 15 acres. Existing public or private ways need not constitute boundaries of the tract but area within any such way shall not be counted in determining compliance with PRD standards.

2. Permissible Density - The number of dwelling units permitted within any PRD shall not exceed three and one half units per acre exclusive of land situated in the Flood Plain District and exclusive of Wetlands as defined in G.L.c. 131 Sec. 40, "The Wetlands Protection Act."

3. Permitted Uses - There shall be permitted in a PRD: a. Single-family detached and attached, and multi-unit structures of all types without regard to dwelling unit configuration or form of ownership.

b. Accessory uses incidental to the principal residential uses indicated above.

4. Lot Area, Frontage and Yard Requirements - There shall be no minimum lot area, frontage or yard requirements within a PRD. However no building shall be erected within 50 feet of a public way, private way, or boundary line of the overall PRD tract.

5. Height - No building shall be more than two and one-half stories or 38 feet in height.

6. Each unit shall be serviced by municipal water and municipal sewer.

7. Design and Construction Requirements - To the degree determined applicable by the Planning Board all design and construction requirements shall comply with "Rules and Regulations Governing the Subdivision of Land in the Town of Wilmington." All private roads, driveways, parking areas and other PRD facilities shall be fully maintained and operated by all of the owners of the units.

8. Area of Residential Development - The area developed for residential use, including buildings, parking and other areas paved for vehicular use, shall not exceed 30% of the total area of the PRD tract. Foot and bicycle paths and recreation facilities, including buildings wholly devoted to recreation, shall not be counted in calculating the 30% limitation.

9. Common Open Space a. All land within the PRD tract which is not covered by buildings, roads, driveways, parking areas or service areas or which is not set aside as private yards, patios or gardens for the residents, shall be Common Open Space. The area of the Common Open Space shall equal at least 40% of the total area of the tract.

b. Such land shall have a shape dimension, character and location suitable to assure its use for park, recreation, conservation or agricultural purposes by at least all the residents of the PRD.

c. A minimum of 25% of the non-Flood Plain or non-Wetlands area of the tract shall be included in the required Common Open Space. Each parcel of Common Open Space shall have adequate access for all the residents of the PRD and no structure in excess of 20 feet in height nor shall the maximum lot coverage including paved areas exceed 10% without Planning Board approval.

d. Provisions shall be made so that the Common Open Space and other common property shall be owned in common by the owners of all units in the PRD, or by a corporation, non-profit organization or trust whose members are all the owners of the units. In all cases, a perpetual restriction of the type described in G.L.c. 184 Sec. 31 running to and enforceable by the Town shall be recorded in respect to the Common Open Space. Such restriction shall provide that the Common Open Space shall be retained in perpetuity for one or more of the following uses: conservation, open space, agriculture, recreation or park. Such restriction shall be in such form and substance as the Planning Board may prescribe and deem appropriate.

e. In order to ensure that the corporation, non-profit organization or trust will properly maintain the Common Open Space and other common property an instrument(s) shall be recorded at the Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds which shall as a minimum provide:

(1) A legal description of the Common Open Space.

(2) A statement of the purposes for which the Common Open Space is intended to be used and the restrictions on its use and alienation.

(3) The type and name of the corporation, non-profit organization, or trust which will own, manage and maintain the Common Open Space.

(4) The ownership or beneficial interest in the corporation, non-profit organization or trust of each owner of a dwelling in the PRD development and a provision that such ownership or beneficial interest shall be appurtenant to the dwelling to which it relates and may not be conveyed or encumbered separately therefrom.

(5) Provisions for the number, term of office, and the manner of election to office, removal from office and the filling of vacancies in the office of directors and/or officers of the corporation or non-profit organization or trustees of the trust.

(6) Procedures for the conduct of the affairs and business of the corporation, non-profit organization or trust including provision for the calling and holding of meetings of members and directors and/or officers of the corporation or non-profit organization or trustees of the trust.

(7) Provisions for the management, maintenance, operation, improvement and repair of the Common Open Space and facilities thereon, including provisions for obtaining and maintaining adequate insurance and levying and collecting from the dwelling owners common charges to pay for expenses associated with the Common Open Space, including real estate taxes. It shall be provided that common charges are to be allocated among the dwelling owners in proportion to their ownership or beneficial interests in the corporation, non-profit organization or trust, and that each dwelling owner's share of the common charge shall be a lien against his real estate in the PRD, which shall have priority over all other liens with the exception of municipal liens and first mortgages of record, and

(8) The method by which such instrument or instruments may be amended.

10. Limitation of Subdivision - No lot shown on a plan for which a PRD permit is granted may be further subdivided, and a notation to this effect shall be placed on the recorded lotting plan.

11. Special Provisions for the Wilmington Housing Authority - Except as provided in Subsection 4. Lot Area, Frontage and Yard Requirements, Subsection 5. Height and Subsection 6. Utilities, the limitations contained in Section C. PRD Standards shall not apply to a PRD which will be owned by the Wilmington Housing Authority, provided that upon Town Meeting approval of the rezoning the Planning Board finds that the proposed design is generally consistent with the purposes and objectives of this By-Law.

D. Procedure For Reasoning and Approval

1. Town Meeting Submission and Reasoning a. Any person who submits a Warrant Article to rezone land to a PRD District shall comply with the provisions of Section B. c. Planning Board Decision - A special permit which shall control all aspects of the proposed PRD shall be issued only if the Planning Board finds that the plans submitted to it for a special permit conform substantially to the overall development plan presented to Town Meeting and that the PRD is in harmony with the objectives and intent of this PRD section. If a special permit is granted, the Planning Board may impose as a condition thereof that the installation of municipal services and construction of interior drives within the PRD shall comply with the requirements of the Subdivision Rules and Regulations of the Planning Board, may require sufficient security to ensure such compliance and the completion of planned recreation facilities and site amenities, and may impose such additional safeguards as public safety, welfare and convenience may require.

Wilmington police news

The number of incidents reported to the police department this week showed a slight decline. There were only five accidents requiring investigation and only two criminal arrests. There were four protective custody denotions, eight reports of vandalism and malicious damage and six disturbances. Four larcenies were reported including mailboxes, bikes and license plates. There were 16 incidents of suspicious activity or cars. Officers investigated one house break and two attempted breaks along with a break-in of a car. Two fires were responded to; there were three assault and batteries reported and the department assisted other police departments on three occasions. Other complaints included tree cutters, traffic complaints, missing teenagers and two stolen motor vehicles from 1979.

Tip of the week: Now that spring is upon us it's time for spring inspection of motor vehicles. Check your car out yourself, make sure your equipment is in working order before you seek an inspection. It is the duty of the local examiner to make certain your vehicle is safe to be driven on the highways, not only for you, but for the other people on the road as well.

Holy Week at Wilmington First Baptist Church

The Wilmington First Baptist Church will be observing a special Palm Sunday-Holy Week Missions Emphasis. The Rev. Reed, pastor, said that this is especially appropriate as the purpose of the cross and the victory of the resurrection are that the world might be reconciled to God. "Thus an Easter season emphasis on the Church's mission to the world is quite in order."

The activities will begin Saturday, March 29, with a 6 p.m. International covered dish supper. Each family or person attending is asked to take a main dish with a foreign flair. The church will provide everything else. The supper will be followed by Mission Forum I with missionary speakers, slides and special music.

Palm Sunday will feature the regular schedule of services; Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., worship at 11 and Evening service at 6 p.m. However, each service of the day will feature guest missionary speakers from OMS, Int'l, a non-denominational faith mission with work encircling the globe. The Wednesday prayer service at 7 p.m. will center around missions and global needs.

The 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Easter service will feature the Rev. John Cornell as guest speaker. Mr. Cornell and his wife Jeannette are stationed in Maracaibo, Venezuela, where they are involved in the literature ministry of The Evangelical Alliance Mission (TEAM).

Other missionaries of the week include the Rev. John McHardy, born in Northern Ireland, educated in England and Canadian Home Director of OMS, Int'l. The Rev. McHardy is a gifted singer and evangelist who has conducted meetings throughout the British Isles and Europe. Mr. Robert Sutherland has served 13 years at the Vocational Bible Institute in Cristaline, Columbia where he has taught agriculture, carpentry, science and Bible classes.

The Rev. Howard Jacob, regional director of OMS Int'l will accompany the team as he and his wife, Wilma, minister in music, testimony and mission reporting. Coming from Allentown, Pennsylvania, the Jacobs are in great demand throughout the northeast as speakers and conference leaders. All services are open to the public. For further details call the church office at 658-8584.

Arthur Ryder seeks school committee seat

Arthur Ryder, a resident of Wilmington for the past 25 years, is seeking election to the school committee.

An employee of the maintenance department, he has worked in the public schools for 15 years. In that capacity he has had contact with the administrators, teachers and students, giving him first hand experience with the problems that plague many of our schools.

How much of the tax dollars being spent today is really necessary? Where have we failed and how can we rectify the situation? Is equipment being stockpiled and becoming relatively useless? How much unnecessary duplicate ordering is there?

Arthur Ryder will probe and find the answers to these questions and thus, coupled with a strong desire to serve his community and its students, he is seeking a position to serve his community and its students. He is seeking a position on the school committee. He earnestly believes that he can help bring about a period of cooperative effort that will promote growth and progress within our educational system. Many children don't fail school - it's the school that fails them. Every child deserves an education geared to his abilities.

As a member of the school committee, Arthur Ryder will resolve to cut waste and conserve. Budgets must be able to fluctuate not only up, but down. Preventing waste is the responsibility of us all. Let's not waste our resources or our minds. We have a larger commitment, as citizens, to see that the students learn to develop their minds to their fullest.

Arthur Ryder and Rose, his wife of 29 years are proud to have chosen Wilmington. They bought their home here after Arthur, a veteran of the Korean conflict, was honorably discharged in 1954. The kindness and friendship of their neighbors over these 25 years has proven it to be a wise choice. It is with these warm feelings of friendship that he would like to repay the town and its citizens by serving unselfishly and enthusiastically as a member of the school committee.

Gerry O'Reilly is candidate

Gerry O'Reilly has announced his candidacy for a position on the Board of Selectmen. Gerry, a Korean War veteran, attended Wilmington public schools, Northeastern University, and the evening division at Salem State College. He is employed at Raytheon Corporation in Bedford as a senior technical writer. Gerry, his wife Ann, and their six children, Mary Ellen, Janet, Patricia, Deirdre, Gerald and Tom live on Wildwood Street.

O'Reilly feels that too much emphasis is being placed on big business in Wilmington and that the needs and services of the town's residents are being neglected. A change in emphasis is needed. The town should begin to care more about the people in Wilmington - their safety, security, and pleasure in their leisure time.

This coming summer, gas will rise to $1.50 a gallon and a great many vacations will be spent in Wilmington - or a stay-at-home summer. With more residents spending time at home, more support will be needed for the expanded youth programs of Little League, baseball and football. Also more and safer ballfields will be needed because of the increase in participation.

Gerry, who has worked in the youth programs, is well aware of the condition of the ballfields and their use. He feels that if kids are active and involved that they do not have time for vandalism.

Tewksbury Youth Hockey

Squirt B's fall just short, 5-4

Tewksbury's Squirt B Youth Hockey team made a gallant run at the District 10 Division II title last week before dropping a heart-breaking 5-4 decision to Quincy.

Coaches Al Marrotta, Tom Fraser and Jim Doyle's boys had reached the position of runners up with wins over Lowell (3-2) and Framingham (3-1), sandwiched around tough-to-take setbacks against Stoneham (4-3 in mini-one-on-one) and Worcester (3-2).

That one goal loss up and bit Tewksbury again in the final game when Quincy scored the game winner with just 29 seconds left to play.

A rundown of the Squirts' Tourney journey:

Quincy 5-Tewksbury Squirt B's 4

Craig Kolek scored two goals for Tewksbury with Dave Motolo picking up the assists on both Kolek lamp-lighters. Matt Crowley scored the third Tewksbury goal assisted by Bob Doyle before Steve Carney scored the tying goal assisted by Sam Dias with 57 seconds left to tie the game.

Quincy applied the pressure over the final 30 seconds however, to come away with the win despite a super Tewksbury effort.

Tewksbury Squirt B's 3-Framingham 1

The second game of the State Finals saw Tewksbury rolling to the win, exploding for three goals in the third period. Ron Perrin, Matt Crowley and Steve Carney lit the lamp to trigger the explosion with assists from Dias, Matt McLaughlin and Crowley.

Worcester 3-Tewksbury Squirt B's 2

The first game of the finals Friday had Tewksbury bowing to a strong Worcester team despite goals by Craig Kolek and Frank Fiore. Pat Amorella assisted on the Fiore goal.

Stoneham 4 Tewksbury Squirt B's 3 (double overtime)

This final game to decide the District 10 championship went through two scoreless five minute overtime periods tied at 2-2 before a mini-one-one shootout decided the outcome.

Stoneham scored in the first period to jump out on top 1-0 before Steve Carney scored 10 seconds later to tie the score. Fine passing by Bob Doyle and Matt Crowley set up the first Tewksbury goal.

Stoneham scored again in the second period to take a 2-1 lead that stood up until the third stanza when

Tewksbury Squirt B's 3-Lowell 2
Frank Fiore, Craig Kolek and Matt Crowley scored the Tewksbury goals with help from Timmy Quinn, Matt Crowley (two) and Steve Carney (two).

Playing well defensively for Tewksbury in this game were Quinn, Dias, Sarsfield, McLaughlin and Glebus. Shining on offense were Amorella, Motolo, Doyle, Perrin and Miller.

Goalies Mike Doherty and Joe Post played well throughout the series for Tewksbury.

Roger Mears proved that every Jeep workhorse is part racehorse.

He did it by driving a Jeep Honcho to victory in some of the most grueling races on the Off-Road Circuit. Mears and his co-driver, Mike Moore, have dominated Class 3 (Production 4-wheel drive) racing this year by rolling up some impressive wins. Victories at the SCORE 1979 Off-Road World Championships, and an overwhelming performance in the Baja 1000, where they finished more than 4 hours ahead of anyone else in their class. That's a record every member of the Mears team can be proud of. Of course, Roger Mears' Jeep Pickup is specially modified for racing, but it rolled off the same assembly line yours did. That's something every Jeep Pickup owner can take pride in. Congratulations, guys. You're proving that every Jeep workhorse we build is a thoroughbred racehorse too.
